

“I Met Jesus Last Night”

A Story of Salvation from the Arab World

Abu, Director of Arab World Media, shares an incredible story of transformation from one of the most gospel-resistant nations in the Middle East. After a hostile phone call from a military officer, a divine encounter changed everything. That same man later reached out saying he had met Jesus in a dream and was ready to learn more. He gave his life to Christ over the phone and is now growing in faith through online discipleship.

This is just one example of how God is using digital media to reach hearts in hard places.
