

Refugee children are encountering hope through Chikondi.

What's Chikondi been up to? Watch this latest update and see how Chikondi is serving Sudanese refugee families in Egypt, and how we're part of the story.

In the Egyptian city of Aswan, they partnered with a local church that welcomes refugee families each week. Over 100 children and mothers gathered as Chikondi introduced kids to biblical truth in a way they could understand and enjoy through engaging, gospel-centered programs. They also trained local leaders, equipping teachers, translators, and storytellers to continue the work even after the visit.

Then in Cairo, another opportunity emerged. A small group serving refugee children had a vision but lacked resources. Chikondi stepped in to train their team and provide curriculum, supplies, and equipment to support their ministry throughout the year. Because of your prayers and generosity, these families are not only being cared for, they're hearing about Jesus.
